WAYS LAFA HELPS

“I have nothing but the highest regard for LAFA. It seems like everytime Lee High School needs help, LAFA is there to provide it. From supporting the library, to scholarships, to funding assistance for clubs and activities, LAFA always seems to come through. Not only does LAFA help students and faculty with financial needs, but it also is an active participant in Lee High School affairs. Regularly working with the PTSA and as participating representation on the Principal's Community Advisory Committee, which fosters communication between Lee High School and the Springfield Community, LAFA is an integral part of Lee High School's educational mission. I have never experienced as dedicated and helpful an alumni association as LAFA, and I deeply appreciate its commitment to supporting Lee High School.”

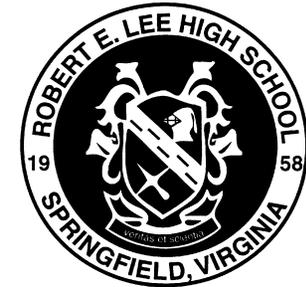

Priscille Dando, June 2002
Head Librarian, R.E. Lee High School

“My experience with LAFA has made a memorable impression which will last a lifetime. I never imagined an organization which could serve the community, our school system and most of all the students displaying such selfless commitment to improving the students learning and enjoyment while striving continuously to improve the school for future years. I am thankful to have worked with LAFA and look forward to a continued friendship with all its members for many years to come.”

Mark B. Flanders, June 2002
Treasurer, R.E. Lee High School PTSA

Originally established as the organizing committee for Robert E. Lee High School's 40th anniversary celebration, the Lee Alumni and Friends Association (LAFA) formally incorporated in 1999 to help serve the needs of the Lee High School (LHS) community. As part of Lee's circle of alumni and friends, we now invite you to reconnect with RE Lee High School.

LAFA is dedicated to reconnecting members with the joys of their past, assisting classes with organizing their reunions, and investing in the future of Lee High School. Through the LAFA website, www.lee-high-alumni.org, visitors can catch up on the latest reunion information, see photos, browse the bulletin board, and search for information on classmates. Several hundred people visit the LAFA site each week, with roughly five or six taking the time to register or update their personal listing. There is no fee to utilize this site.

Maintaining a website, donating money to Lee High School, and providing scholarships takes time, energy and funds. LAFA has donated nearly $2,500 each year to students and the school.

You can help LAFA continue to achieve its goals by becoming a member for as little as $15 a year or by making a tax-deductible contribution. While LAFA would like to secure a sustaining endowment, it currently relies solely on the generous contributions of alumni and friends. Please consider becoming a LAFA member or sending a donation—no amount is too small.

Please register on the LAFA website, www.lee-high-alumni.org and kindly consider a donation to LAFA.

WAYS LAFA HELPS

“The Lee Alumni and Friends Association (LAFA) has become a positive and integral part in the life of Lee High School. In fact, we are unique in that respect and are envied by many. During my time as president of the Parent, Teacher, Student Association (PTSA), I've had the pleasure of working with the LAFA president, Mr. Morgan F. Percy III, who is a permanent, voting member of the PTSA Executive Board. LAFA has helped fund many Lee activities such as helping students pay for trips to state and national competitions in business, music, theater and athletics. LAFA generously provides two scholarships to deserving students at the Senior Awards Ceremony held at the end of the year.”

Pete Conklin, June 2002

President, R. E. Lee High School PTSA

“I greatly value our Lee Alumni. Their active participation in the life of the school has been a wonderful bonus to all of our students. They support our many extracurricular activities both financially and by their active participation at our athletic games, drama productions, PTSA meetings, Advisory Committee meetings and musical performances. Again, I am so pleased that they continue to share with our present students their warm memories of Robert E. Lee High School.”

Donald Thurston, June 2002

Principal, R.E. Lee High School
